

INFORMATION REGARDING TARIFFS

Limo's new pricing scheme aims to base the rental fee on actual usage, i.e. the distance made during the rental.

For rentals under 61 minutes, the pricing logic has changed, we have switched to km-based pricing, and we have abolished the minute fee for all car types. For different car types, the km fees are differentiated, with the exception of one type.

Simpler calculation: compared to the previous minute & km scheme, the calculation is simpler, as the rental fee is based on the number of kilometres driven, with the abolition of minute fee, to which the unlock fee and extra zone fee are added.

The rental fee is more predictable: for the same distance within the same category of car, the rental fee will always be the same, even if you cover the distance in 10 or 40 minutes.

More favourable in rush hour: the new price varies from the previous one, but you can also rest assured that the price will be more favourable at peak times, even in rush hour.

With kilometre-based pricing, we create the opportunity to:

- take your time to check the car before you start your trip; check its cleanliness, adjust the seats, mirrors, phone, however, the minutes are ticking but the rental fee is not
- take the time to unload the car and remove any rubbish after you finish your trip, as there are no more minute charges for your rental, so that others will find the car in proper condition

For safe driving, please take advantage from this opportunity to park in the correct place at the end of your rental and take the end-trip photos properly.

For rentals over 61 minutes, the tariff remains unchanged: hourly packages and daily fee plus km fee. The unlock fee and extra zone fees are added to the rental fee.

- The daily rental fee still includes 50 free kilometres, which can be combined for multi-day rentals.
- If you switch to the hourly or daily package, the lower, uniform km fee for the entire distance from the first kilometre travelled will apply, as specified in the hourly and daily package.
- The rental is flexible, you don't need to calculate the time in advance, you don't need to choose a package before the trip, the system will automatically assign you to the right package based on the rental time.
- If you exceed 60 minutes, you better keep the car with you until the end of the time frame for that package, as hourly and daily rates are fixed per package and are not affected by the number of minutes that elapse within that time frame. The charge per kilometre varies only according to the distance travelled.

We are confident that the new pricing scheme will help to reduce irregular parking, speeding and thus prevent possible accidents, as well as to ensure that the condition of the cars is properly and carefully checked before and at the end of the rental period.
